

Audio and Web Conferencing

Connecting people has never been so simple! Windstream's Audio and Web Conferencing goes far beyond traditional conference calling. With this conference platform, you can quickly and easily organize a conference at any time.

Windstream provides the tools to easily manage your participants, secure your meeting, and record your conference, all from your telephone keypad.

Audio and Web Conferencing also has optional web-based conference management and basic presentation features.

Make your remote meetings more productive by using Audio and Web Conferencing to add visual components to your audio conference.

To learn more about how your business can enjoy the ease and flexibility of Audio and Web Conferencing, contact your Windstream Representative.

Features

- Flexible joining options for your participants
- Accommodations for 2 to 125 audio participants and up to 500 web participants (more can be added with operator assistance)
- Ability to upload presentations and other documents to the web for your conference
- Billing codes to track conferences by department or person
- Options for post-conference summaries and online reports

Advantages

- Easy-to-Use: Start a conference at any time. No need to call an operator to set up a time and conference number.
- 24/7 Support: Access customer support right from your conference.
- Cost-Effective: Save money on time and travel by connecting via audio and web conference.
- Reliable: Conduct conferences in a simple, reliable, and secure environment.