Questions to Consider When Evaluating Your Email Solution:

- Is your current email system as reliable as you'd like it to be? Is it giving you "email headaches"?
- What does the availability of your email system mean to your business? If your system is down, does productivity suffer? What about your image to your customers?
- Is your IT staff frequently overwhelmed or understaffed for key projects? Would your company benefit if your IT staff had more time to work on projects that increase revenue and competitive advantage?
- How long does it take to get a new employee a fully functioning email box?
- Does your budget include money for upfront capital expenditures like upgrading your email system? Would you like to use that cash for something other than email?
- Would accessing your corporate email system from a Web browser – any Web browser – make your employees more productive?
